

We, the undersigned, have agreed that the participant set forth below ("Participant") shall participate in the Experiment in International Living program identified below ("Program"), offered by World Learning Inc. ("World Learning") through its program The Experiment in International Living ("The Experiment"). In consideration of World Learning's agreement to permit the Participant to participate in the Program, we hereby agree to the following Conditions of Participation ("Conditions"):

Fees, itineraries, sample host communities, and sample activities published in our catalog, on our website, and on all informational materials are based on our best information at the time of publication. As The Experiment in International Living is always looking to improve the quality and safety of programs and to take advantage of new opportunities all program related information is subject to change in The Experiment's sole discretion.

Predeparture Tuition Protection

Optional Tuition Protection provides families with flexibility to cancel enrollment until 72 hours prior to your first departure date for any reason, and receive a full refund of your program fees, excluding international airfare. For other cancelations and withdrawals see refund policy above. For more information and to register, visit experiment.org/apply-tuition-protection.

Program Changes

The Experiment reserves the right to modify, relocate, suspend, cancel, terminate, alter, transition to online delivery, or in any way change a program, including but not limited to, its itinerary, duration, activities, and excursions, at any time and for any reason in the Experiment's sole discretion, including but not limited to closure for public health concerns or force majeure, with or without notice. Normally in the event of modification, relocation, suspension, alteration, termination or cancellation, refund procedures shall follow those set forth in the Withdrawal Refund Procedures section herein.

Travel Arrangements & Visa Procedures

Participants are expected to use the transportation provided by World Learning between the ports of departure and return. In signing this form, the Participant and parents agree not to arrange, engage in, or encourage Participant's personal or independent travel for any purpose not related to the Program, nor to arrange or encourage visits to the Participant by family or friends during the Program. Participants and parents/guardians agree that any expenses arising from any personal or independent travel of a Participant (or friends/family members) or any early return home, dismissal, or involuntary withdrawal from the Program, either alone or accompanied, are borne solely by the Participant and the undersigned.

Air Transportation

World Learning arranges scheduled air transportation through designated airlines or travel agents and has designated or will designate the times and ports of departure for all group transportation. For applicable programs, international group travel is arranged by The Experiment and is billed separately from the program fee. Participants enrolled after May 1 are not guaranteed a seat on the group flight, however Experiment staff will work with its agents to arrange travel on the group ticket if possible. Participants enrolled after June 8 will be responsible for all their own travel arrangements, including domestic and international flights.

Any participant wishing to deviate from the group international travel must notify The Experiment by no later than May 1 and will incur the $250 inconvenience fee. (Participants who receive Experiment financial aid cannot travel independently from the group.) For health and safety reasons, participants wishing to travel independently to or from the Program site/host country must obtain approval and coordinate travel with The Experiment staff in advance, and Participants and parents/guardians assume all risks associated with any such independent travel to or from the Program. [See Independent Travel section below.]

World Learning, the agents selected by it, and the airlines reserve the right to cancel the air transportation arrangement or change dates, times, prices, and itinerary, and to make aircraft substitutions. In the event changes or substitutions are made by World Learning, its agents, or the airlines at any time prior to the Program date, the parties agree that World Learning is not responsible for the cost of airline tickets or any associated fees, including change fees or cancellation fees, and that those fees will be passed on and are the responsibility of the participant and the undersigned. Each Participant is solely responsible for any individually missed connections, the Participant's failure to use designated transportation or for travel associated with dismissal for conduct, academic or other policy violations. World Learning will be in no way liable for the cost of alternate transportation or for any consequential losses resulting from such missed connections or the Participant's failure to use designated transportation.

Initials

Parent/Guardian

The participant is responsible for complying with all visa procedures and deadlines as outlined by The Experiment. Failure to completely and properly comply with such procedures may result in withdrawal of an offer of admission and forfeiture of a space on the Program.

Independent Travel

Independent travel during this Program is restricted and in most cases, Participants will not be traveling independently from the Program. Independent travel is defined as travel within or outside of the Program country, conducted by a Participant, which is not part of a Program activity or approved activity, such as travel during periods of free time, including all travel with homestay families or in any applicable independent study period. Violation of the independent travel policy may result in removal from the Program. Participants traveling independently following the close of a program, including for domestic travel home, assume total responsibility for themselves. World Learning, The Experiment, and its employees assume no liability for individuals once they are separated from the Program or on independent excursions or travel. Participants hereby assume any and all risks, known or unknown, and all costs and liability of any kind whatsoever for any independent travel during a Program.

A Participant who leaves the scheduled program at any time without prior written authorization from The Experiment may not be allowed to return to it at the discretion of The Experiment and may be withdrawn from the Program. The normal refund schedule will apply, and travel expenses incurred due to a premature return to the United States from abroad, either alone or accompanied, must be borne by the Participant and the undersigned.

Health Review

Participation is contingent upon the timely submission by Participant of Participant's completed health forms, accommodations request, and review of same by World Learning's designated medical team. Health forms are due per the published deadlines as noted above. Participants who submit late health forms after the published deadline are subject to a $250 late fee. Late submitted forms may preclude participation in the program.

Failure to disclose complete and accurate information on the health form may result in dismissal from the Program. Participants and parents/guardians assume any and all liability or costs of any kind related to incomplete or inaccurate health information and forms and treatment or handling of any undisclosed conditions. World Learning requires that all participants participating in Experiment in International Living programs show the Participant's medical and psychological stability, without exacerbation, acute changes, complications, or adverse reactions related to symptoms, functioning, or treatment, as determined by World Learning. Participant and parents/guardians hereby agree to inform World Learning of any changes in Participant’s stability or health condition at all times until the end of the Program, and failure to do so may result in dismissal from the Program. Parents/guardians and Participants assume responsibility for any costs associated with failure to disclose any and all relevant health information, and for the costs and expenses incurred in responding to or treating any medical condition of any kind while on the Program. Participant and the undersigned parents/guardians agree that they are responsible for providing appropriate medications for any known health conditions and for any conditions that may arise during the Program, and also acknowledge that some medications (including EpiPens) may not be available in some countries. Where a needed medication is not available the Participant may be sent home for treatment or the undersigned will be responsible for and will bear the cost of acquiring and delivering medications in country.

Program Group Activities

Some Experiment programs include group activities which are only permitted as part of the Experiment Program activity. The Experiment may use third party vendors, activity operators, guides, and other service providers in connection with providing these Group Activities. Such group activities may include, but are not limited to: safari, sand surfing, sun exposure, biking, pedi cabs, hiking, trekking, horseback riding, animal contact, rides or petting, ziplining, high ropes course, abseiling/rappelling, kayaking, canoeing, pedal boats, boating, whitewater rafting, tubing, swimming, snorkeling, high elevations, camping, paintball, and other outdoor, sporting or play activities (“Group Activities”). In signing this form the Parent/guardian fully consents to the Participant engaging in any such Group Activities as part of the Experiment group. The Experiment’s water policy can be found in the Experimenter and Family Handbooks and at experiment.org/policies.

Program Restrictions & Dismissal

Participants are not allowed to engage in any of the activities described above as Group Activities except as part of the Program-sanctioned Group Activity. Engaging in Group Activities independently is grounds for dismissal. In addition, certain other activities are deemed potentially dangerous to individual safety and program integrity are not permitted and are grounds for dismissal. These include, but are not limited to: hitchhiking, surfing, driving any motorized vehicle (including electric scooters), parachuting, bungee jumping, hang-gliding, riding in private airplanes, possession or use of firearms, rock climbing, base jumping, bridge/cliff jumping, branding, tattooing, piercing, surfing and scuba diving. World Learning also prohibits participants from participating in, attending, or otherwise engaging in political protests, rallies, demonstrations, or acts of civil disobedience at any time while on the Program. Participants may not use any alcohol or drugs of any kind, including smoking (tobacco, vaping, hookah, etc.). Participants may not operate or ride on any two-wheeled motor driven vehicle (e.g., motorcycle, moped, motorized or electric scooter, motorcycle taxi, etc.) or other kinds of recreational motorized transports, except where the transportation is operated by a third party service provider engaged by the Experiment for group activities. In addition, participants are not permitted to engage in any and all challenges, games, dares, etc. which could be dangerous to health and safety, including but not limited to food or beverage consumption challenges like the cinnamon and similar challenges, asphyxiation games like the choking game or pass-out challenge, and escalating truth or dare scenarios like the blue whale challenge.

The Experiment, in its sole discretion, reserves the right to dismiss any Participant for the following reasons, or for any other reason Experiment believes is in any way damaging to the participant, the Program, Program participants, staff, partners, homestay families, government agencies, other affiliates, or to its reputation:

- Failure to participate fully in all program components;
- Failure to observe published or articulated policies or procedures including COVID-19 preventative guidance;
- Failure to disclose information requested by The Experiment (e.g., health information);
- Sexual misconduct
- Any use or abuse of alcohol, marijuana, or unprescribed or illegal hallucinogenic, or otherwise non-prescribed drugs, plants, chemicals or fungi; (The Experiment’s alcohol and drug policy can be found in our Experimenter and Family Handbooks and at experiment.org/policies.)
- Health conditions or circumstances that interfere with effective program participation or adversely impact the experience of fellow participants;
- Failure to comply with the provisions of local country laws, regulations, and customs;
- Conduct that includes making statements that are false, misleading, obscene, defamatory, harassing, hateful, inflammatory, discriminatory, and or in any respect damage the rights of others;
- Conduct that is, in the sole judgment of World Learning, improper, disruptive or offensive to the host community; or
- Potentially detrimental to the health or safety of the Participant or other members of the Program, or inappropriate for the Program or for positive experiential learning in a cross-cultural environment.

The Experiment and its employees assume no responsibility whatsoever in connection with losses or other damages resulting from the above listed articles.

In the event of any of the aforementioned behavior, The Experiment may utilize progressive discipline including, but not limited to: verbal warnings, revoking privileges, phone/email correspondence with parents/guardians, written behavior contracts, and dismissal from program. Progressive discipline is at the discretion of the Experiment and depending on the seriousness of the offending behavior, may proceed with dismissal without any preceding discipline.

The Experiment has zero tolerance for illegal and/or unprescribed drugs. In the event of use of illegal and/or unprescribed drugs, a participant will be dismissed from the program.

In the event of dismissal for these reasons, no refund will be given. In no event shall World Learning or The Experiment be responsible for legal fees or costs or other expenses incurred by any Participant or parents/guardians for any reason.

Failure to comply with Program restrictions and other Experiment policies and procedures, whether or not resulting in dismissal, may preclude a Participant from participation in future Experiment study abroad programs.

Online & Social Media Policy Agreement

I/we understand The Experiment’s online and social media policy, as described in the Experimenter and Family Handbooks and at experiment.org. Failure to comply with this policy may result in program dismissal before or after the program has begun. In the event of dismissal for these reasons, no refund will be given. In no event shall World Learning or The Experiment be responsible for legal fees or costs or other expenses incurred by any Participant or parents/guardians for any reason.

Identification

When boarding the aircraft all Participants must be prepared to present some form of numbered, positive identification that matches the information on the passenger manifest or is otherwise approved and acceptable by airlines and immigration authorities. Deportation, failure to allow entry, detention at border crossing, and other immigration or border control actions are not within the control of the Experiment and all associated costs or expenses are fully the responsibility of the Participant. A passport or travel identity document must be shown for international travel. For domestic travel, a Social Security card, driver's license, or other identification may be used.

Family Placements

World Learning's programs seek to foster increased cross-cultural understanding in Participants by immersing them in cultures different from their own. World Learning homestays are based on daily life in a family and community. Participants are expected to assume roles as family members, respecting and following host family rules as well as World Learning rules and obeying all applicable community, local, state, and national standards of conduct, laws, cultural norms, and regulations. World Learning reserves the sole right to make host family placements. Placements are not restricted based on any local characteristics, such as regional accents or dialects, ethnic character of the community, types of industry, economy, or climate, etc.

Insurance

For the duration of its programs, World Learning provides Participants with emergency illness, accident, and lost baggage/personal effects insurance. Details of this coverage are specified in our illness and accident policy for participants traveling outside the United States here (experiment.org/health-safety-risk-management), which all Participants (and where appropriate, their parents or guardian) should read carefully and understand that not every loss will be covered and deductibles may apply. This insurance should be considered as supplemental secondary coverage to the Participant's own personal insurance. The coverage does not include participants who are U.S. citizens while they are in the United States, so U.S. citizens on U.S.-based programs, or during a U.S. program component, must rely on their own insurance. International participants (non-U.S. citizens) on U.S.-based programs are covered by a separate emergency illness, accident, and lost baggage/personal effects insurance plan while on the program in the United States. Contact The Experiment for details. World Learning strongly advises Participants and their parents to consult their own advisors regarding health insurance coverage for the duration of the Participant's Program. The Experiment discourages traveling with expensive devices, smartphones, tablets, laptops, jewelry and other valuables. Lost, damaged or stolen personal effects are not covered by World Learning's insurance and participants should avoid traveling with valuable items or be sure they have their own adequate insurance for personal property.

Participant and their parents/guardians and the undersigned also agree to fully indemnify and hold harmless the World Learning Representatives from and against any Losses.
